

Egyptians to Polls to Elect Sadat

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Millions of Egyptians trooped to the polls today to elect Anwar Sadat president for a six-year term.

Sadat, 52-year-old acting president since the death of Gamal Abdel Nasser on Sept. 28, was the only candidate in a "yes" or "no" referendum. He was nominated unanimously last week by the Arab Socialist Union, the nation's only political party, and the National Assembly.

The government radio and the controlled press campaigned up to the last minute for a massive turnout to demonstrate the nation's wholehearted support for Sadat as Nasser's successor.

Each voter received a ballot bearing the question: "Do you agree to elect Mohammed Anwar El Sadat as president of the republic?" Beneath were two circles, one red, one black. A mark in the red circle signified a "yes" vote; a mark in the black meant "no."

Voters marked their ballots behind a black screen, and the polling places had special sections for women.

After the polls closed, the sealed ballot boxes were to be sent to about 200 district tabulating centers for counting. Results are to be announced Friday.

Should Sadat fail to muster 50 per cent of the ballots cast, the National Assembly would be called on to nominate someone else. But nobody expected this to happen.

To organize the referendum within less than three weeks of Nasser's death, the Interior Ministry used the same procedures and polling stations that were used in last year's referendum on Nasser's so-called March 30 Manifesto, the program to mobilize the country for a new struggle against Israel.

The government's printing plan turned out 15 million referendum cards within 48 hours. Just as many copies of voter instructions and voters' lists were turned out within four days, much more quickly than for the March 30 referendum.

Two thousand government employees worked around the clock to print the cards. More than a million were printed for Cairo alone.

Each registered voter was required by law to cast a ballot, with a fine prescribed for non-voters, but there is no penalty for failure to register. This is our reason only 7.7 million persons are registered to vote out of Egypt's 33 million inhabitants.

Equal Rights Amendment Abandoned

By JOHN CHADWICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The equal rights amendment that has been knocking around Congress for 47 years apparently is dead, and key Senate supporters are abandoning it in favor of a new proposal to prevent discrimination against women.

The proposed constitutional amendment, introduced first in 1923, achieved its greatest victory last August when the House bypassed its Judiciary Committee and approved it by a 350-15 vote after an hour's debate.

Agnew Used as Reason to Back Bumpers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette today endorsed Democrat Dale Bumpers for governor.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, Bumpers' Republican opponent had received the newspaper's endorsement in 1966 and 1968.

In an editorial, the Gazette said that Bumpers was best suited to give the state and the legislature the kind of leadership needed.

The Gazette said that Bumpers would have an advantage over Rockefeller in getting programs through the legislature. Rockefeller has failed several times in trying to put his programs through the Democratic-controlled legislature.

The Gazette said the endorsement did not "in any way" intend to discount the accomplishments of the Rockefeller administration. Rockefeller offered the state a "clean administration," the editorial said.

The editorial said, however, that Rockefeller had recently given reason for "concern" about his future direction.

"Last week he brought Spiro T. Agnew to Arkansas for one of those patented campaign diatribes that are sowing discord in the country," the Gazette said. "When Rockefeller gives the abraço to Spiro Agnew, the philosopher of the radical right, it is time to start wondering what part of the political spectrum Rockefeller may be turning."

"Whatever Mr. Rockefeller's weaknesses at this juncture, the candidacy of Dale Bumpers stands on its own merits and appeal," the editorial concluded.

The Tupolev F27 plane of the government-run airline was seized 10 minutes after it took off from the Georgian town of Batumi on the eastern edge of the Black Sea for a 100-mile flight north to Sukhumi, the Trabzon deputy governor reported.

The hijackers were armed with guns and grenades. A scuffle apparently ensued aboard the plane, Turkish officials said, but what exactly happened was not clear.

One of the two wounded pilots was rushed to a local hospital and was reported to be in very critical condition.

The plane landed here normally, the Trabzon airport manager said, contradicting earlier reports that it had crash landed. He said the hijackers walked off first and surrendered their weapons without trouble.

He said the 43 other passengers,

"has the sincere conviction that free elections open to all political parties and groups in South Vietnam, including the National Liberation Front ... would constitute the best and ... most rational way for the South Vietnamese population to exercise genuinely its right of self-determination."

Lam did not say what arrangement other than elections Saigon might be willing to discuss. But when President Nguyen Van Thieu first proposed free elections on July 11, 1969, he said, "The only way for the people of South Vietnam to exercise their right of self-determination ... is through elections ..."

Lam's softening on this point was in line with one point in the five-point proposal Nixon made Oct. 7. Nixon skirted the question of elections and spoke of "the political process agreed upon."

Echoing a Hanoi broadcast earlier today, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's chief delegate to the talks, told newsmen that the Viet Cong, North Vietnam and their allies in Laos and Cambodia "have categorically rejected Mr. Nixon's pseudo plan of peace."

Following her to the microphone outside the conference room, Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam said, "The peace put forth by Mr. Nixon is a false peace." He said the Americans must address themselves to the "just and reasonable solution" advanced by Mrs. Binh last Sept. 17, a restatement of Communist demands which the Americans rejected.

The broadcast statement by the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry rejected Nixon's proposal as "a deceptive maneuver" and a "fraud."

Angela Davis Without Bail, Stays in Jail

NEW YORK (AP) — Angela Davis, the Marxist black militant, was held without bail today for a Nov. 9 hearing on extradition to California to face kidnapping and murder charges.

An attorney for Miss Davis, 26, who was arrested by the FBI at a Manhattan motel Tuesday evening, said his client would fight extradition on the charges stemming from a courthouse shootout that left four persons dead.

She was arraigned first Wednesday on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and held in lieu of $250,000 bail. Later the federal charge was dropped and she was arrested by city police on the state charges.

Sources at the U.S. attorney's office said the first arraignment was to keep Miss Davis in custody until a courier arrived from California with warrants for murder and kidnapping.

Although she could be extradited under either federal or state laws, the sources said the conventional practice was for state warrants to take precedence in such a case.

Miss Davis, a brilliant Marxist scholar and former philosophy professor at the University of California at Los Angeles, had been sought for nearly two months and was on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list.

Arrested with her at the motel was David R. Poindexter Jr., 36. He was arraigned separately on charges of harboring a fugitive and held in lieu of $100,000 bail for an Oct. 20 hearing.

Miss Davis is accused of purchasing four guns used in the shootout escape attempt at the Marin County Courthouse at San Rafael, Calif. last Aug. 7.

Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, who was taken hostage along with the prosecutor and three women jurors, was killed in the gunfight as were two convicts and the youth who invaded the courtroom with the weapons.

Mass production of mobile homes has proven to be one of the most economical and acceptable approaches to this problem. It is logical to expect further progress from mobile homes into modular housing construction, and we believe Mid America Housing, Inc., is well fitted to help meet the social and economic needs of our country in these areas."

The operational management of Mid America and its personnel remain unchanged. The principal officers include Charles R. Copeland, president; J. R. Bennett, executive vice president; and Don Harrison, vice president and general manager of the Steel City Retail Division of Mid America.

More Money For Urban Renewal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Wednesday the Housing and Urban Development Department had approved the addition of $65,000 to the fund the McGeehee Housing Authority uses to compensate owners of property claimed for urban renewal projects.

The authority previously had been granted $839,112 for such expenditures, Pryor said.

In basic JACOBY MODERN, we recommend that, when you have 13 points or more in support of partner's major-suit opening and can't give a forcing jump raise because you are playing limit raises, that you adopt the following procedure:

With an unbalanced hand and 13-16 points in support, bid your longest side suit and then take appropriate action depending on your partner's rebid.

With a balanced hand and 13-14 points in support, bid four diamonds. With 15-16 points, bid four clubs.

In any case, with 17 or more, that you jump in a new suit immediately.

Here is another hand that would probably be bid to a slam in any system. It is a real cinch in JACOBY MODERN.

With 15 points in high cards, North responds four clubs. South's hand is strong enough to head right for the slam. His 15 high-card points all appear to be real hard workers and he decides to use Blackwood as a safety measure.

In JACOBY MODERN you don't use the Blackwood convention until you are prepared to bid a slam if partner's response shows that your side has either three or four aces. In other words, you don't use Blackwood as a method of bidding a slam. You use it as a safety valve to keep yourself out of slams that won't make because your opponents can cash two aces against you.

This was a good time for safety. North's sound hand includes just one ace. He shows it and South stops at five.

Merle Haggard Wins Country Music Award

By NANCY SHIPLEY
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Merle Haggard has won the most coveted award given by the Country Music Association — Entertainer of the Year. "This concludes the most wonderful year of my life," Haggard said in accepting the award on the stage of the Grand Ole Opry House Wednesday night.

The California balladeer received three other awards during the hour-long ceremonies televised on NBC's Kraft Music Hall. He also was named Male Vocalist of the Year and won awards for his song, "Okie from Muskogee," in two categories, album and single.

The Song of the Year award went to "Sunday Morning Coming Down," by Kris Kristofferson.

Haggard defeated such contenders as Johnny Cash, Glen Campbell, Roy Clark and Charley Pride in winning the top entertainer award. Cash won the title last year and Campbell the year before.

The awards highlighted the 45th anniversary celebration of the Grand Ole Opry, which continues through Saturday night's performance of the Opry.

Blonde songstress Tammy Wynette captured her third straight award as Female Vocalist of the Year. She finished ahead of Lynn Anderson, Loretta Lynn, Dolly Parton and Connie Smith.

Guitarist Jerry Reed, a regular on Glen Campbell's network television show, was named instrumentalist of the year over Chet Atkins, last year's winner; Roy Clark; Floyd Cramer and Merle Travis.

Saratoga Beef Production Class Meets

Leon Brown, Vocational Agriculture Instructor, has announced that a class in Beef Production is in progress at Saratoga High School. Jerry Killian is instructor for the five-week class which will meet Monday and Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in the Vo Ag Classroom at the school.

The program will cover various management practices which can result in more profit for beef cattle producers, and all producers in the Saratoga School District are encouraged to attend.

This class is being conducted through the joint efforts of the Saratoga High School, Red River Vocational Technical School, and the State Department of Vocational Agriculture.

Juniors Play Tonight, Cats on Friday

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Tomorrow night marks the homecoming of the Hope Bobcats and they're playing the number one, class AA Arkadelphia Badgers.

Everyone is already picking the Badgers as the state playoff champions with an undefeated season. Until they played their last game, in 1969, Arkadelphia had not lost a game, but on Homecoming, the Badgers fell to a 14-7 loss to none other than the Bobcats.

This year its Hopes' homecoming and this game is marked as one of the best with both squads sporting unblemished conference records. The winner Friday night could very well be the 4-AA and state champions, so its whoever gets the most points on the board.

The Badgers are led by senior quarterback Bill Vining and he has three fine backfield men in Luther Guinn, Gary Anderson, and Tom Harris. All three runners have good speed and quickness.

In the line there are some pretty good sized linemen in tackles Jimmy Hankins and Edsel Danner, who both weigh over 200 pounds. Brent Bridges and Gary Davis are the guards with Jerry Thomason manning the center position.

Vining has good receivers in Scott Thomas and Bill Hurley, both seniors. Hurley also handles the punting chores.

Defensively, Arkadelphia uses the slant and stack formations. Leading the defensive team are noseman Dennis Porker and monster man Jackie Yeager, both seniors with good agility. The tackles will probably be David Thomas and Carl Buckley with the blood and anchor ends being Ronnie Riggle and Mark Thompson.

Starting at linebacker will be Greg Dyess and Ricky Tucker, both hard hitters with a nose for the football.

The secondary is solid at all three posts with safety Aldai Johnson and halfbacks Danny Melton and Steve Tolar. All three have plenty of experience at their positions and will be tough against the pass.

Arkadelphia has not really had trouble with anyone this year except Magnolia, and they finally won it 49-26, so whatever the case may be you can look for one of the best games of the year in Hammons Stadium tomorrow night with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff. The Bobcats play host to the Nashville Scrappers tonight in Hammons Stadium and will be looking for victory number TWO after an 8-0 win over Camden last Thursday. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

President Andrew Johnson later became a senator.

Reds Beat Brooks and Stay Alive

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Has Sparky Anderson discovered Gil Hodges' magic elixir in time to make a miracle for the Cincinnati Reds?

The desperate Reds, one step from oblivion in the 1970 World Series, started Baltimore 6-5 Wednesday on a three-run, eighth-inning homer by strongman Lee May—after a pre-game chat between their manager and New York Mets skipper Hodges.

"I told him, 'I don't know what your magic was last year, but I sure can't seem to find it,'" Anderson recalled.

If Hodges, whose club lost the series opener to Baltimore last year and then won four in a row, passed on the Met formula, Anderson wasn't about to reveal it after May's wallop and the airtight relief pitching of Clay Carroll saved the Big Red Machine from the scrap heap.

Nor would the Reds' manager, now trailing 3-1 in the best-of-7 set for baseball's top prize, name a starting pitcher to oppose Baltimore southpaw Mike Cuellar today in game No. 5, jeopardized by a forecast of rain.

"I'll be Milt Wilcox, Wayne Granger or Jim Merritt," he said. "I honestly don't know which one."

"I could go for a little rain." The Reds' predicament—no team ever has come on to win a series after losing the first three games—was worsened when Jim McGlothlin, losing pitcher in game No. 2 last Sunday, came up with arm trouble.

Merritt, a 20-game winner, also has had arm problems while relief specialist Granger never has started a major league game and Wilcox, a rookie with only five regular season appearances under his belt, was raked by the Orioles in relief of McGlothlin.

But the Reds' spirits definitely were on the upswing as they prepared to face 24-game winner Cuellar, a knockout victim in his two post-season starts. They had overcome a four-hit spree by series standout Brooks Robinson Wednesday and had come up with their own clutch performer—first baseman May.

"We've got more momentum now, we've started swinging better and we're more relaxed," said the 205-pound slugger, who drilled the first pitch from reliever Eddie Watt into the left field bleachers at jam-packed Memorial Stadium to erase a 5-3 Baltimore lead. The homer was his second of the series and gave him eight RBI high for either club.

"I think we're going to win it," he said.

"What happened today brought the whole team back," said Carroll, who blanked the Orioles on one hit for a three-game relief string of 81-3 scoreless innings in the series. "We were a little bit down, but we're going to be way up tomorrow."

"I'll be ready. If I pitch again I might hurt my arm. But we're trying to win this thing. So I'll be out there."

"We'll use all 10 pitchers if we have to," added center fielder Bob Tolan. "It's going to be tough, but we'll take our chances and let it all hang out."

Until the eighth inning Wednesday, the Reds were hanging by their thumbs. Brooks Robinson's second series homer and a three-run burst in the third inning sent the Orioles on top and they added an unearned run in the sixth.

Dave Concepcion's triple delivered a second inning run for the Reds, May singled home another in the second and Pete Rose homered in the fifth. But Orioles' starter Jim Palmer appeared to be in command, despite control difficulties, going into the eighth.

Then Tony Perez, who has stroked just one hit in 14 series at bats, walked on a 3-2 pitch and Johnny Bench, 2-for-14 as he came to the plate, lined a long single to left.

Manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles lifted Palmer at that point and Watt, a sticky late-inning stopper, got the call for the first time in the series.

His first pitch was a belt-high fastball which May deposited in the seats.

"Watt has done the job for me all year in short relief," Weaver said. "May just went up there and ripped the ball. You've got to give him the credit. It might have been a good pitch and it might have been a bad pitch. Sometimes a bad pitch goes for a pop-up."

The dramatic homer thwarted Baltimore's bid for a second series sweep in five years and snapped a winning string that began during the end of the season and carried through a three-game kayo of Minnesota in the American League pennant playoffs.

"All they did today was stay alive," Weaver said. "We're looking for a winning streak of one game now. I'd prefer to get it tomorrow."

Arkadelphia Picked to Beat Hope

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Although unbeaten, Jonesboro is trailing Little Rock McClellan in the Class AAA-East race. The second-ranked Hurricane has an opportunity to alter the situation Friday night at Little Rock.

Jonesboro, which has permitted only seven points in six games, has won one and tied one in conference play as has Forrest City.

McClellan has lost twice to nonconference opponents but is 2-0 in conference play.

Jonesboro was sailing along 5-0 and ranked No. 1 in the state until a scoreless tie with Jacksonville last week.

McClellan edged Benton 8-7 last week.

One touchdown might win this one and a wild hunch says Mike Malham's team will find some way to score.

LR MCCLELLAN 7, JONESBORO 3.

Fort Smith Northside and North Little Rock Northeast, two members of Class AAAA, meet at Fort Smith Friday night with the Grizzlies needing a victory to stay in the title chase.

Northeast proved last week it can get up on occasions, losing to top-ranked North Little Rock 7-6.

However, Roger Carter should be too much for the Chargers.

NORTHSIDE 21, NORTH-EAST 7.

Arkadelphia journeys to Hope with the lead in Region 4AA. West on the line. Both are unbeaten in conference play.

Sixth-ranked Arkadelphia beat Camden in a similar showdown two weeks ago and should be able to handle the Bobcats.

Major HOOPLES FOOTBALL FORECAST for games of saturday, october 17

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The Original Drawback

Egad, friends, with the season just nearing the half-way mark the ranks of the undefeated and untied major eleven have shrunk to barely more than a corporal's guard. And after this Saturday's shelling the ranks will be even thinner—um-kumph!

Last week your favorite forecaster gave you three colossal upsets — Stanford over Southern California, Tennessee over Georgia Tech and South Carolina over North Carolina. And this week we can confidently forecast the defeat of two more unbeaten powers—Yale and Auburn—kaff-kaff!

Columbia's Lions, who last Saturday surprised the forces of John Harvard, will deal a dose of the same to the Yale lads this weekend. 'Tis sad that I — hak-kaff — one of Yale's all-time greats, must be the bearer of bad news for the followers of the Old Blue. But do it I must, Columbia, 30, Yale, 27, is the way it will be!

Georgia Tech, dumped from the unbeaten ranks last week, will do the same to Auburn! The Hoople System sees the Yellow Jackets administering a stinging 22-16 defeat to the Auburn Tigers on the latter's home grounds.

One of the most interesting clashes on this week's card matches the high-flying Air Force Falcons and the Navy Midshipmen in Washington, D. C. I predict the Falcons' great aerial circus, featuring Bob Parker and Ernie Jennings, will bomb the middies into submission, 42-7!

Some undefeated clubs this correspondent favors to keep their records clean are Miami (O.), Ohio State, Notre Dame and Mississippi.

In a tough Mid-America conference meeting, Miami's Redskins will edge Ohio University by a 27-20 count!

Archie Manning and his Mississippi supporting cast have too many guns for So. Mississippi and will walk off with a 28-14 victory.

Two of Manning's top rivals for the Heismann Trophy—Joe Theismann of Notre Dame and Rex Kern of Ohio State—will keep their clubs on the winning road. For Theismann and the Irish it will be a convincing 35-10 victory over always-rugged Missouri at Columbia. For Kern and his brilliant Buckeyes, it will be an equally convincing 42-14 triumph over Minnesota!

Stanford, whose great operator Jim Plunkett will have something to say about who will win the Heismann, will stay on the Rose Bowl course with a 32-17 trimming of Washington State — har-rumph!

Now go on with the forecast:

Georgia Tech 22, Auburn 16

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Bears Have a QB But No Sayers

CHICAGO (AP) —The Chicago Bears opened the National Football League season with Gale Sayers and a quarterback problem.

Now they have a quarterback and the problem of replacing Gale Sayers, who appears headed for knee surgery next week for the second time in two years.

Dr. Theodore Fox, Bear physician, reported yesterday: "If subsequent tests confirm what I believe, surgery will be performed next week on Sayers' left knee."

Under the quarterbacking of revived Jack Concannon, the Bears take a 2-2 record against the San Diego Chargers here Sunday.

The Bear performance has to be noteworthy since Sayers, one of the most exciting runners in NFL history, was shackled the past seven weeks by the injury opposite to his right knee mended by 1968 surgery.

Sideline much of the still-young season, Sayers pulled out lame Sunday in a futile chase of 255-pound Alan Page in the Bears' 24-0 loss here to Minnesota.

Sayers, who earlier carried unimpressively six times for nine yards against the Vikings, commented: "I felt something pull and a lot of pain when I chased Page."

At any rate, the sad sight of Sayers failing to gain a stride on the huge Page may have been the last action for Gale this season.

Sayers has carried 24 times for 52 yards, his only other start being the Sept. 19 league opener at New York. Sayers hauled 18 times for 43 yards as the Bears jolted the Giants 24-16.

That's a pitiful contrast with the 1,032 yards which last season gave Sayers his second NFL rushing title, despite major surgery on Gale's right knee late in 1968 and the Bears' poorest (1-13) record in history in 1969.

St. Louis and Oakland Lead Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — St. Louis and Oakland jumped to the front in offense and Minnesota and Kansas City on defense in the National Football League team statistics released today.

The Cardinals of the National Conference and the defending Super Bowl champion Chiefs of the American Conference made the biggest advances, each moving up from fifth place last week. Minnesota of the National and Oakland of the American each moved up one place.

The Cardinals were averaging 341 total yards on offense, 163 on the ground and 188 passing. San Francisco, despite its 20-6 upset over Los Angeles, fell to second at 332.

The Chiefs have allowed their opponents only 218 yards per game, 107 rushing and 111 passing, while Denver dropped two places to third.

Minnesota switched places with Detroit by allowing only 165 yards per contest, 82 rushing and 83 passing, while Oakland changed with the New York Jets by averaging 387 yards a game, 134 rushing and 253 passing.

Joe Louis to Be Released by Hospital

DENVER (AP) — Former world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis is scheduled to be released Friday from the Denver Veterans Administration Hospital where he has been undergoing treatment of an emotional disorder since last May, his wife said Wednesday.

Mrs. Martha Louis said they plan to spend the weekend in Las Vegas, Nev., before returning here to make their home. Her husband, she added, will continue with out-patient treatment at the hospital.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — With Wednesday night's episode, the remodeling of NBC's "The Virginian" into "The Men from Shiloh" was completed.

The second of the series' new stars was introduced—Lee Majors, once one of Barbara Stanwyck's sons in "The Big Valley." He played a paroled convict—justifiable homicide—who was rescued from a lynching party. At episode's end he had been hired as a hand by Stewart Granger, this season's owner of Shiloh.

Between the opening lynching party and the finish, there was a long and talky story lacking both action and sense. Granger was escorting the 17-year-old daughter of a tycoon out West in a private car on the Cheyenne train. His quick action saved the young man and got him aboard the train. The girl promptly flipped over him. The plot thickened only slightly when four men aboard the train planned to kidnap the girl for ransom.

Naturally, our hero foiled the plot and was revealed as a nice fellow before the wind-up shoot-out, but not too soon to keep the audience from dozing off.

The series, even in the "Virginian" days, has frequently suffered from padding—a passable 60-minute story dragged out to 90. The padding Wednesday was achieved by some of the most uninspired boy-girl dialogue this season.

It now appears that the anticipated three-cornered ratings race between three suspense series late Wednesday night isn't much of a contest. CBS's "Hawaii Five-O" is far out front of NBC's "McCloud" and ABC's "Dan August."

The Nielsen's would suggest that "Hawaii Five-O" is therefore the best show of the three. That is not necessarily so, but it is a handsome, professionally produced hour that takes advantage of the scenery of the 50th state. But like all series, it has good nights with stories that work and some bad nights, too.

This week things worked pretty well. It was a standard action story based on the theft of a priceless violin from a visiting Russian musician. The thieves—who overacted wildly—tried to ransom it from the musician and his secretary-guard. But McGarrett, crime fighter extraordinary, came to the rescue at the last moment.

Jack Lord, as McGarrett, dominates the series. However, he plays the part with such savage, humorless intensity, that it becomes monotonous after brief exposure.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

James Butler Hickok, known as Wild Bill, was an American scout and marshal. The World Almanac says Hickok was appointed marshal of Hays City and Abilene, Kan., considered the most lawless towns on the frontier until he restored respect for the law. Hickok was shot dead from behind by Jack McCall, a desperado, in Deadwood, S.D., in 1876.

Captain Milton Mosier and Sergeant Ray Davis discuss with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gunter that many have completed the training and others are being encouraged to equip themselves with the "preventive" measures. Pictures in background depict the results of accident tragedies.

Captain Mosier points to pictures of 268 completing the short course sponsored in Hempstead County by the Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the various interested and concerned groups.

Hempstead County drivers interested in enrolling in the Short Course scheduled to begin October 26, should call the Agricultural Extension Service 777-5771 and enroll by October 20 if possible. Sergeant Davis will instruct the defensive driving. Only $1 will be charged for a student workbook prepared by the National Safety Council.

Join the County Safety Effort. Be defensive-conscious.

Three Atomic Powers Set Off Tests

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three atomic powers have set off nuclear blasts on the same day, apparently for the first time, unleashing force equivalent to more than nine million tons of TNT.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced Communist China had resumed nuclear testing with a 3-million-ton atmospheric blast. That followed by about an hour Wednesday what apparently was the largest Soviet underground nuclear explosion in seven years and the most potent subterranean blast ever triggered by any nation.

The AEC declined comment on the significance of the Chinese detonation.

But Japanese observers speculated the test was part of Peking's plan to develop a small hydrogen bomb capable of use in a missile. China launched its first space satellite last April 23, and there were predictions the initial test of an intercontinental missile would come this year.

The AEC said the Chinese blast was conducted in the atmosphere over the Lop Nor test site. Mainland China did not sign the 1963 limited test-ban treaty barring testing in the air.

The blast was the fourth Chinese explosion rated in the three-megaton category, and the nation's 11th since it began nuclear testing Oct. 16, 1964.

Following an announced explosion 13 months ago, Peking's official news agency said the Chinese tests should offer "great encouragement and support" for North Vietnamese and other nations fighting against "U.S. aggression" and for independence.

However, the announcement added, "At no time and in no circumstances will China be the first to use nuclear weapons."

The AEC said seismic signals indicated the Soviet blast was the equivalent of 6 million tons of TNT — largest since the test-ban treaty became effective.

The test was the sixth by the Soviet Union this year and the 43rd since August 1963.

The largest underground blast ever triggered by the United States was estimated at 1.2 megatons. The biggest nuclear explosion was a 15-megaton atmospheric blast set off by the United States Feb. 28, 1954.

Pittsburgh Ballet Signs Russian

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Alexander Filipov, a dancer who defected from the Soviet Union in what he said was a search for artistic freedom, has signed a one-year contract with the Pittsburgh Ballet Theater.

Bridge Falls in Australia, 24 Killed

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Twenty-four workmen were killed and 19 injured today when a 2,000-ton section of a bridge under construction in Melbourne fell 134 feet to the ground. Twenty-five other workmen were missing, authorities said.

The collapse halted work on what is to be Australia's largest bridge, over a mile long spanning the Yarra River in the southern part of Melbourne. Known as the West Gate Bridge, its eight lanes are expected to carry 30,000 cars and trucks daily. Completion was scheduled for next year.

Within hours of the accident, unions withdrew their men from the $47 million project and Premier Sir Henry Bolte of Victoria State ordered an investigation into the disaster.

About 70 welders were on the prefabricated steel and concrete span when it gave way and thundered down on construction sheds along the riverbank where other workers were eating their lunches.

A fire broke out, and fire engines and every available ambulance were ordered to the scene. Three huge mobile cranes were moved in to lift debris.

"The bloody thing cracked in the middle," said one of the injured welders. "I was on top of it."

Work on the bridge was halted temporarily two months ago so that its steel framework could be strengthened. This followed the collapse of part of the similarly constructed Milford Haven Bridge in Wales on June 2 in which four men died. The consulting engineering firm of Freeman Fox and Partners was employed on both projects.

program which limits crop subsidies for the first time.

The sharpest fight in the lame-duck session may come in the Senate on the welfare reform proposal which the President has called his No. 1 domestic item in the 91st Congress.

The House passed the family assistance plan in April. But it long was stalled in the Senate Finance Committee before the panel voted to reject it.

Supporters of the plan say they still can win in the Senate by attaching it to a Social Security bill considered certain to pass.

However, the Social Security bill has not yet been cleared by Finance. It is entangled in a fight over restrictionist trade legislation which the committee has added as a rider. A band of free-trade senators has announced it will do everything possible to block this rider.

Other Nixon proposals remaining to be considered are a job safety bill, a constitutional amendment on electoral reform, a manpower training measure and legislation to provide emergency aid to schools faced with desegregation problems.

The President has offered several other measures which are almost certain not to be considered by the 91st Congress.

In this category are revenue sharing with the states and cities, draft reform, higher education including a revision of student loan programs, and reform of the federal grant-in-aid system.

John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's consultant on domestic matters, charged Wednesday Congress had been bogged down in a lot of unproductive debate at the expense of Nixon legislation.

He predicted, as have congressional leaders, that little of consequence will come from the lame-duck session.

Rogers Sets Meet With Egypt Envoy

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, opening 10 busy days of talks with world leaders at the United Nations, set a meeting today with Egypt's Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad.

With Riad, and with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Friday, Rogers will sound out prospects for putting the U.S. Mideast peace plan back on the track.

Rogers has served notice he wants enough "rectification" of alleged Mideast truce violations by the Soviets and Egyptians to get the proposed Arab-Israeli negotiations going. He has not specified publicly just what would have to be done.

Washington contends—and Moscow and Cairo deny—the Soviets and Egyptians have violated the Aug. 8 standstill ceasefire by a missile buildup in the Suez truce zone. Israel is boycotting the peace talks because of the alleged violations.

With Gromyko—whom he sees again on Monday—Rogers expects to talk about President Nixon's new Vietnam peace plan, Berlin, strategic arms curb negotiations and other East-West issues.

The Rogers-Gromyko sessions will provide a high-level sampling for U.S. strategists on whether the Kremlin has shifted toward a hard line in dealing with the West. Administration officials pushing Nixon's "era of negotiations" policy have been particularly concerned about what they regard as blatant violations of the Mideast ceasefire.

Rogers' appointment with Riad will give U.S. policymakers a glimpse also of Cairo's foreign policy under the new leadership succeeding the late President Gamal Abdul Nasser.

Thursday, October 15, 1970

The secretary of state will be talking with a large number of other foreign dignitaries attending the opening of the fall session of the U.N. General Assembly.

The fall gathering by foreign ministers has become an annual affair. Rogers last saw Gromyko at the 1969 session.

This year the U.N. session is augmented by visits from an array of government chiefs who are coming for the U.N.'s 25th anniversary observance.

Democrats for WR Name Chairman

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Joe Norton of Little Rock Wednesday was named chairman of the Democrats and Independents for Rockefeller.

Marion Burton, campaign director for Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's bid for a third term, made the announcement. He said Mrs. Payton Kolb of Little Rock would be co-chairman of the organization.

In the past, Democrats for Rockefeller and Independents for Rockefeller were separate organizations, but were merged this year.

Norton, a radiologist and former co-chairman of a physicians' organization, said he voted for Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

Norton said he was a Democrat and voted in the Democratic primary even though he said he intended to support Rockefeller in the general election.

Norton said he voted for Dale Bumpers, the winner of the Democratic nomination, in the runoff election against former Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Blight Hurt American Corn Crop

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.
Associated Press Writer
CLINTON COUNTY, Ind.
(AP) — Martin Silverthorn pulled an ear of corn from the stalk, peeled back a husk covered with a grey, moldy powder, and then crushed the kernels and corncob in his hand without effort.

"That is what the blight has done to us," the Hoosier farmer said.

He was showing the harm done this year to corn fields from the Gulf of Mexico to the northern Great Lakes by a black fungus known as the Southern Corn Leaf blight.

The U.S. Agriculture Department announced Monday that the nation's blight-damaged crop improved slightly during the final week of September and now is estimated at 4,188,281,000 bushels.

But the new estimate, as of field conditions on Oct. 1, represented a 13 per cent decline from the record crop of more than 4.8 billion bushels expected in July.

Martin Silverthorn—he prefers to be called Martin—showed how the fungus, whose spores are carried by the wind, first attacks the lower leaves of a corn stalk, producing egg-shaped lesions. Later, the fungus moves up the plant and penetrates through the husks into the corn kernels.

"As soon as it hits the leaves, the plant slows down its growth. The ears of corn won't go ahead and fill out," Martin said. This accounts for drops in production of as much as 50 per cent reported by many farmers.

"One reason you have to harvest as quickly as possible," Martin explained, "is that the blight weakens the stalk. If the plant falls over, then the shelling machine won't pick it up."

Another reason is to harvest before more damage is done, he said.

Martin and his wife, Alice, farm 500 acres—mostly in corn—in this rich farming area about 50 miles northwest of Indianapolis.

This spring the crops were just getting a good start when a hailstorm ripped across the area, devastating a number of acres of corn and some 10 acres of cucumbers.

Then Martin nursed the corn crop through a two-month drought, only to see his ears of corn turn black with the silent, powdery invader.

Agriculture experts are uncertain whether the blight will survive the winter and make more devastating attacks next spring, nor do they know whether the black fungus "dust" is dangerous to farmers working on the harvest.

Purdue University's agricultural extension service warned farmers in Indiana that while the fungus is not known to be infectious to man, it could produce allergic reaction and result in chronic respiratory condition after repeated exposure.

An agricultural bulletin has advised all farmers working in the blighted fields to purchase breathing masks.

Meanwhile, Martin and his neighbors are waiting for completion of tests at Purdue attempting to determine whether blighted corn can safely be fed to hogs and beef cattle.

Asked what he will plant next year, Martin shrugged his shoulders and said, "There aren't going to be enough supplies of resistant varieties of seed. One outfit flew its equipment to Hawaii to start producing seed corn there for the coming season."

Growing of blight-resistant seed corn has also been stepped up in Mexico and South America this winter. Nonetheless, a Purdue bulletin said those varieties will draw "premium prices" next season.

Reluctant to speculate on blight damage to farmers like himself, Silverthorn did say that at the least "it means you don't buy that new car or replace any equipment this year."

Martin and other Hoosier farmers aren't sure what the blight will mean in the long run. "People are gonna sell off their hogs," Martin said. "Corn will be too expensive to use for feed."

This may mean, for this fall at least, that the consumer may benefit in lower pork prices as farmers sell their hogs earlier than usual, thus creating a market glut.

Next year, however, according to some leading New York brokerage house specialists in farm commodities, the consumer will be paying higher prices for both pork and beef products, because the corn blight will mean high prices for feed grains used to fatten cattle and hogs.

Offsetting some of the gloomy aspect for the farmer is the likelihood that what corn is saved from the blight this year will draw better-than-average prices.

Martin was graduated from Purdue University in 1933 "when things was tough." He's been farming ever since, and is used to accepting bad years along with the good.

Although it is traditional now, "Aho!"—used by sailors when calling to another ship—was originally the battle cry of the Vikings.

Wants Aspirin Sold Only by Prescription

By C.G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A surgeon-researcher says aspirin is a health hazard and should be sold only by prescription along with all other potent drugs.

Dr. Rene Menguy, professor of surgery at the University of Chicago, said Monday it has long been known that aspirin can cause internal bleeding and sometimes death, yet it continues to be sold over the counter.

Menguy told a press conference at the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons there are no statistics on aspirin-related fatalities, but that he would guess there are 1,000 a year.

About 20 million pounds of the drug are used each year in the United States.

Menguy and a colleague, Dr. Adele Mae Gottschalk, reported results of a study they made on the effects of aspirin on the stomach's mucus secretion in the stomach which allows acid to penetrate its walls.

They said aspirin reduces the protective mucus secretion in the stomach which allows acid to penetrate its walls.

Menguy, who has been studying the effects of aspirin for 10 years, said physicians and the public do not always realize that aspirin can cause massive, sometimes lethal, internal bleeding.

He estimated that one out of every seven or eight patients who report to hospitals complaining of internal bleeding have the problem as a result of taking aspirin, although tens of thousands of people take the drug with no trouble.

Menguy said the person who takes aspirin only occasionally, as he does himself, is less likely to develop serious bleeding problems than the chronic user, who takes four to six tablets a day over a long period.

Aspirin users, particularly women, may develop gastric ulcers, he said.

The best way to take aspirin, the surgeon advised, is with food.

Aspirin should never be taken on an empty stomach, he said, and the worst time to take it is when suffering from a hangover, because alcohol increases the damaging effect.

Market Reflects the Change in Attitudes

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The record-breaking surge in stock market volume during the past few weeks reflects a marked change in the attitudes of some mutual funds, which account for a growing percentage of activity.

During the final full week of September, volume reached a record high of 83,422,450 shares on the New York Stock Exchange. That record survived just two weeks before it was broken on volume of 84.1 million shares.

There is little question that institutional traders provided much of the action, as revealed by big block statistics.

Included in the old, one-week record were about 470 blocks of 10,000 shares or more, and last week's new high included about the same number. Big blocks accounted for 13,342,900 shares last week, which once was a fair week's activity from all sources of trading.

Accompanying this rise is a steady reduction in the cash position of mutual funds, indicating that much of the surge in volume is coming from that source.

Earlier this year the funds maintained record amounts of cash as they, too, shied away from a market that was proving costly to all investors.

Moreover, they expected a

Thursday, October 15, 1970

rash of redemptions because of their poor performance, and needed cash with which to honor requests. Their average cash position, therefore, rose to 12 per cent or more of assets.

The rush to redeem has not developed as anticipated—which isn't to say that it never will. Through August, at any rate, redemptions were falling, which is a departure from precedent.

Mutual fund officials note that in previous years when a market recovery was under way, many customers cashed in their funds, the enticement being the rising per share value and the sense of relief on being able to dispose of holdings at prices higher than a few weeks or a few months earlier.

CARTER RUSSELL

—Hope, (Ark) Star photos

Carter Russell, who probably does more to promote Hempstead products, than any other single person has something besides watermelons that is becoming widely known.

It is hams cured the old fashioned way. Mr. Russell is shown above with about 100 hams in smoke room in the top picture. In the bottom picture some 400 green hams and 100 slabs of bacon are being sugar cured. The hams average about 14 pounds.

Mr. Russell started curing his own hams about 20 years ago, just a few now and then. Today he is capable of processing 7,500 hams a year and with just a little expansion could increase the output.

The hams are purchased 'green' or fresh. They are taken to a curing room where sugar cure is applied. It's the same with bacon. The sugar curing stage is 40 days. They are then moved to the real hickory smoke room and slow smoked 10 days. Both the meat and method of processing meets all federal specifications.

Mr. Russell said that some hams were purchased by local folks but the biggest part are sold to tourists. He said many vacationers come through every year and buy a ham to take home. He also ships them all over the U.S.

If you are hungry for some good old fashioned hickory smoked meat, the kind that makes red-eye gravy, you don't have to order. What you want is processed here in Hope every day.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

MY READERS ANSWER THE MAIL

Dear Helen:
These girls who feel slighted because they're the third or fourth in the family, and don't get as many snapshots taken, or maybe have to wear hand-me-downs! I think that in many cases they're emphasizing little things and overlooking the greater benefits of being youngest.

I have two older sisters and one older brother. I know that I've gotten more privileges than they ever did because my parents sort of "practiced" on them and were relaxed when I came along. I got to date sooner, stay out later, and I was much more "understood" than they were.

Maybe the family album has more pictures of the first born, and maybe she got a few more wedding presents. She might even still be "grandma's favorite," but she had to break ground for the others — and obey a lot more kind of stupid experimental rules.

Why can't these kids forget jealousy and be happy with what they've got? I dunno. Maybe I'm just lucky, but I can't help thinking I'm one of MANY lucky ones. — KID SISTER

Dear Helen:
I don't think you sympathized sufficiently with "Lonely and Left Out" whose parents didn't pay as much attention to her as they did to the older sisters and brothers when they were her age. You even admitted that you yourself were guilty of taking gobs of pictures of your oldest child, while the youngest only had a few in the album.

Only selfish, cruel and insensitive parents treat their children unjustly, and there is no excuse for it. It makes me boiling mad when I hear of parents who favor one child over another. — MRS. M.S.

Dear Mrs. S.:
My educated guess is that you either haven't started your family or it numbers no more than two children (which is plenty these days, of course.) I, too, get boiling mad at "insensitive favoritism" but, (as Kid Sister pointed out above), the number of pictures in a family album is no proof.

Our youngest is quite relieved that we only recorded her best moments, while our oldest will go down in history as the unclothed kid with spinach on his chin (plus being the subject of a hundred other embarrassing pix, always dragged out at the wrong times!) — H.

Dear Helen:
I try to think I'm not "left out," but Helen, for the past three years I haven't even received a card or a "happy birthday" wish, while my sister gets nice presents and sometimes even a party. She's two years older.

Last year for Christmas she got a brand new bike with a shift, and I got the old one she didn't want any more. Nothing else.

In lots of other ways I get the feeling I'm not wanted, and I don't know why because I don't cause a lot of trouble or fight or anything. What's wrong? — UNNOTICED

Dear Unnoticed:
Your parents are wrong, that's what. Perhaps they feel, because

Anderson Not Sure of Starter

BALTIMORE (AP) — A sore-armed 20-game winner, a rookie and a reliever who has never started a major league game were the names dumped into Sparky Anderson's starting pitching grab bag today for the fifth game of the World Series.

The first-year Cincinnati manager refused to pull one name out Wednesday after the Reds, trailing Baltimore three games to one, beat the Orioles 6-5 on Lee May's three-run homer in the eighth inning.

"I'm going to be very honest. I don't know whether I will start (Jim) Merritt, (Milt) Wilcox or (Wayne) Granger," Anderson said.

Jim McGlothlin definitely will not start. He has a slight problem with his arm," the Reds pilot said of the right-hander who started the second game.

"I think I'm sound. The swelling's gone," said Merritt, 20-10 during the season. Tendonitis in his left elbow has kept the slim southpaw out of the post-season classic so far.

Granger, who saved a league record 35 victories for the Reds during the season, hasn't started a game since he was with Tulsa in the minors in 1967. He still thinks he could do the job.

"I think I can go nine innings," Granger said. "You can do funny things in situations like this. The adrenalin flows."

you are younger, you don't need equal recognition. By the time they wake up, they may have lost their second child!

Meanwhile, try not to brood about seeming favoritism. If you tell your folks how hurt you are, they may change before it's too late. — H.

AM&N Worse Off Than Reported

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department, said Wednesday that at least $2 million would be needed for Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff to get out of debt by the end of the present fiscal year June 30.

Milam said the overspending problem at the school appeared even worse than had first been anticipated.

A recent audit by the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee showed that AM&N had about $1.4 million in liabilities. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said that a fiscal crisis existed at the predominately Negro college and instructed the Administration Department to take charge of the school's expenditures.

Milam said his department would work out an austerity budget for the school to keep it operating until the legislature convened in January.

Milam said the financial problems of the college would present an "emergency situation" to the legislature when it convenes. The legislature is the only source of funds to pay off the school's debts, he said.

Milam said he was pessimistic that the austerity budget would keep AM&N within its income for the present fiscal year.

The college is operating on a day-to-day basis, he said. The administration department had been working for seven weeks on the proposed austerity budget for the present school year but had been unable to complete the budget because of the problems found in the AM&N accounting system.

He said the Administration Department had been unable to change some of the college's salaries to the accounts from which they should be paid.

Milam said that one of AM&N's problems was that all of the school's funds had been pooled into one big pot, not restricting the different accounts to the purposes for which they were intended.

"The information just does not exist from which to construct a budget," he said.

Milam said expenditures at the school had been cut wherever possible.

Skies to Clear Today, Says Weatherman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U.S. Weather Bureau says that the skies will clear this afternoon, following several days of rain and cloudy skies.

However, the temperatures will remain cool until Saturday and Sunday when they are expected to climb slightly.

Clouds covered Arkansas today and Wednesday following the passage of a cloud front through the state. There was occasional sunshine reported, but the majority of the state reported cloudy skies and some light drizzle.

While the skies will be clear tonight, the weather bureau says a high centered over Nebraska will bring lower temperatures to all sections of the state tonight.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 74 at El Dorado to 54 at Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 42; Harrison, 43; Jonesboro, 54; Texarkana, 53; El Dorado, 59; Memphis, 57 and Little Rock, 52.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .04 of an inch of rain at Harrison and a trace at Little Rock.

Head Start Grant Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Wednesday announced the approval of a Headstart grant of $204,500 to the Economic Opportunity Agency of Washington County at Fayetteville.

The grant, by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will finance a 12-month program to provide preschool training for 158 children from low-income families.

Merger Includes Local Industry

Completing the transactions for Mid-America Housing, Inc., to become a subsidiary of Montgomery's Blount Brothers Corporation are officials of the two companies and the First National Bank of Hope. From left they are J. R. Bennett, Mid-America's executive vice president; Charles R. Copeland, president of Mid-America; A. J. Paddock, Blount's chairman of the board; and Thomas E. Hays Jr., president of the First National Bank of Hope.

Egypt Gets Jump at UN Session

By TOM HOGE

Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Egypt stole the spotlight from the silver anniversary of the United Nations today with a request for an urgent debate on the Middle East as soon as the commemorative session is over.

The question is already on the General Assembly's agenda, but diplomats had hoped to avoid a public airing of the dispute between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

The commemorative session, attended by chiefs of state and government from all over the world, began Wednesday and ends Oct. 24.

The Middle East debate, requested Wednesday by Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed H. El-Zayyat, is expected to get under way Oct. 26.

A U.N. spokesman also announced that the Big Four foreign ministers have accepted an invitation to dine with Secretary-General U Thant on Oct. 22 or 23 in Thant's offices. The American, British, Soviet and French diplomats are expected to discuss the Middle East and other world problems.

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers was arriving today for the commemorative session. He invited Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to dinner on Friday, and Gromyko will entertain Rogers at the Soviet mission Monday night.

Man May Destroy Self, Not by Bomb But With Too Much Leisure

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Some social scientists worry over whether man may destroy himself not by the hydrogen bomb but by too much leisure.

They estimate that the productive needs of civilization may be met by the end of this century by a work week of 20 hours or less. What will man then do with more spare time on his hands than he has had in any previous period of his history?

For some reason many intellectuals believe that they alone know how to use leisure time wisely. They feel that the average man, if he is allowed to lift his nose from the grindstone ever so slightly, will spend that extra time debauching in a saloon, fighting his neighbor, or beating his wife.

This viewpoint, of course, reflects an arrant class snobbery

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (Special) — Blount Brothers Corporation, one of the nation's larger construction firms with $300 million of contracts underway, today acquired the majority interest of Mid-America Housing, Inc., of Albertville, Alabama. A. J. Paddock, Blount's chairman of the board, said that the acquisition of this young and rapidly growing company in the mobile home industry is an important step in Blount's diversification program.

Mid-America operates three plants currently producing at a rate of $20 million worth of mobile homes sales a year. Its operations also include a number of mobile retail outlets located throughout Mississippi and Alabama and a mobile home park. The manufacturing plants are located in Albertville, Alabama; Hope, Arkansas; and Levelland, Texas.

Mobile home manufactured by Mid-America are sold in the southeast and southwest and surrounding states. The homes are sold under the trade names of the Young American, the Bravo and the LeVelle. The homes range in size up to the large 14 by 70 foot units.

Charles R. Copeland, Mid-America's president, said, "The combined resources and abilities of our two growth-oriented companies will provide a solid foundation for expansion in the mobile home industry, modular building units and related areas."

Upon completion of the acquisition, Blount's Paddock, commenting on the importance of housing in today's economy

U.S. Scales Down Raids Across South

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force is scaling down bombing raids across South Vietnam while maintaining pressure on North Vietnamese supply routes in Laos, informed sources reported today.

American air attacks in Vietnam on suspected North Vietnamese and Viet Cong positions and in support of allied ground troops in battle have dropped off by as much as 70 per cent since the "big enemy" offensives in 1968, the sources said.

The main reason, the sources said, is that the war has de-escalated into small clashes, with few large concentrations of enemy troops to be found.

Another factor is that American forces are disengaging from the war in line with President Nixon's Vietnamization policy, and the South Vietnamese air force is flying more sorties.

The U.S. 7th Air Force has been reduced by about 200 fighter-bombers since January, more than half the fleet it had in Vietnam, as part of Nixon's withdrawal program. It now has about 175 fighter-bombers at four bases in South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese air force has increased about 200 planes and helicopters since January and now totals about 600.

In January 1968, the South Vietnamese air force flew 13 per cent of all sorties in South Vietnam; last month the Vietnamese share was about 25 per cent.

The 7th Air Force's new commander, Gen. Lucius D. Clay Jr., has ordered changes in tactics to eliminate bombing raids against targets of questionable value. Informed sources said this also is reducing activity.

The sources said the Air Force has been flying from 100 to 300 sorties a day in Laos, a sortie being one flight by one plane. The rate goes down during the monsoon season and increases sharply during the dry season, which is on now.

In Cambodia, U.S. bombers have been flying "considerably less than 50 sorties a day in recent weeks," one source said.

Body Found at Mineral Spgs.

MINERAL SPRINGS, Ark.

(AP)—The body of Terry Redman, 19, of near Mineral Springs was found in an automobile Wednesday about four miles west of Mineral Springs, authorities said.

Windows of the car were up, the ignition was on and the vehicle was out of gasoline, Sheriff Dick Wakefield of Howard County reported.

Wakefield said a heater hose had been disconnected, permitting the exhaust to go into the trunk of the automobile.

Redman was an employee of a gypsum wallboard company near here.

Hanoi Flatly Rejects Plan for Peace

By STEPHENS BROENING

Associated Press Writer

PARIS, (AP) — The Vietnamese Communists forcefully restated today Hanoi's rejection of President Nixon's peace plan, but U.S. Ambassador David K.E. Bruce told them he was awaiting "a more considered and constructive response."

At the same time, South Vietnam offered what a member of the delegation described as new political proposals in an attempt to break the deadlock at the Paris peace talks. It carried a hint that Saigon might accept a formula other than elections to decide South Vietnam's political future.

Bruce called the Nixon plan a set of "specific and logical proposals that should become a basis for detailed negotiations."

He reminded his adversaries: "You indicated that you would be commenting on the President's proposals more definitively at this and subsequent sessions. Today we await a more considered and constructive response."

South Vietnamese Ambassador Pham Dang Lam told the weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that his government

Nixon Slates Special Ceremony to Sign the Anticrime Measure

By THOMAS BRADY

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today signed a sweeping anticrime bill, and said it would give federal authorities the tools for an all-out war on the Mafia. He pledged: "We will win."

Signing the measure into law at special ceremonies at the Justice Department, Nixon said the measure also provides the means to "see that those who engage in terrorist acts will be brought to justice."

The measure, passed last week by Congress after being deadlocked for 18 months, touches on two of the major issues in this fall's campaign: the growing strength of organized criminal activities and bombings by radical groups, which are becoming a frequent occurrence.

One provision of the bill, added just last month, provides the death penalty for those convicted of fatal bombings, gives the FBI immediate jurisdiction in campus bombing incidents and makes bombing an offense for which the government can use electronic surveillance.

"It seems that every day we pick up the papers and see some sporadic incident without reason, without cause, a terroristic act that we have not been able to cope with before," Nixon said.

Nixon invited Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to witness the signing as part of an effort to underline the importance of what one White House spokesman called "a very major piece of legislation."

But civil liberties organizations didn't share the President's enthusiasm for the bill and indicated they will challenge the constitutionality of some provisions.

Congress Recesses and Kidnap Alert Goes Out to Congressmen

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a last-minute flurry of activity, Congress has recessed for a month, leaving for a lame-duck session a big stack of bills including a major part of President Nixon's program.

The recess began Wednesday afternoon with Congress to reconvene Nov. 16 for the first post-election session since the Korean War.

Before quitting for the final weeks of campaigning, Congress sent to the White House a bill providing tougher penalties against traffickers in drugs but easing penalties against those using some narcotics.

Action also was completed on three health measures authorizing $2.5 billion for a variety of programs; legislation setting up a government-backed corporation designed to preserve some rail passenger service, and a $1.6 billion military construction authorization bill.

Among bills left over for the post-election session—which leaders hope to adjourn before Christmas—are eight money bills needed to run the government during the current fiscal year, and a three-year farm

Soviet Plane Hijacked to Turkey

TRABZON, Turkey (AP) — A

father-and-son team of hijackers seized a Soviet Aeroflot airliner over southern Russia today and forced it to fly to this Turkish town on the Black Sea coast, Turkish officials reported.

They said a hostess who resisted was shot dead and two pilots wounded.

It was the first successful hijacking of a Soviet passenger plane to another country. Soviet authorities for years have kept military guards at airports.

The hijackers surrendered and were taken into police custody after the plane, carrying 50 persons, landed here just after noon.

A militia colonel here identified them as Brazinskas Koreyev, 46, and his 18-year-old son, Argadas, both Russian citizens.

Turkish press reports said the hijackers were of Jewish origin. This could not be confirmed
